HATFIELD HOUSE, THE HISTORIC OLD PALACE TO WHICH LORD SALISBURY HAS RETIRED.

When Lord Salisbury recently threw down the reins of government and retired from public life, he went to one of the loveliest homes in all England. Hatfield House, which has been for centuries the home of the Cecil, is quite worthy of the name palace, which it bore in the days of Elizabeth and Mary. It is situated in the middle of a great estate in the county of Hertford, about twenty miles from London.

Home Rule Platform SENT OUT To All Party Workers

Copies of the recently constructed Home Rule platform are being distributed to members of the party throughout the islands. The platform is as follows:

The Independent Home Rule party of the Territory of Hawaii, asserts as its fundamental principle the self-evident truth that all men are created equal in the eyes of the law and are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights among which are life, liberty and pursuit of happiness. That the American principles of freedom and liberty have first been established here in Hawaii by the great Home Ruler, Kamehameha I, when he declared the Mamalahoe decree "that the old men, old women and children could sleep in the highways without molestation," to be a law in his realm.

We hereby reaffirm our unshaken belief in the cardinal tenets of the Independent Home Rule party as set forth in its platform of June 7, 1900, and pledging ourselves anew to continued advocacy of these grand principles of human liberty. We hold that the purpose of government is to secure every citizen in the enjoyment of this right. We also hold that the true theory of politics is that the machinery of government must be owned and controlled by the direct votes of the people, and it should be governed for the people, by the people and of the people. "Vox populi, vox dei"—The voice of the people is the voice of God.

We denounce the centralization of power in the hands of a few without popular vote, as un-republican and undemocratic. We believe that all Republicans and Democrats, the whole nation of the United States are alike home rulers, for they are governing their own state affairs by the direct vote of the people.

This party expresses its high appreciation of the good will shown by the President and all the officers of the Executive Department of the United States, for the people of this Territory in their co-operation with Hawaii's Delegate. We also give thanks to the Senators and Representatives of the several States and also the Delegates of the Territories of the Union in Congress for the assistance which Hawaii's Delegate received from them in his legislative duties. With gratitude, we thank the American people for the kindness that they expressed for our Delegate during the time he had been confined to bed by sickness. That we also endorse our Delegate's efforts and labors in Congress and do hereby pledge ourselves to re-elect him as such Delegate for the Territory of Hawaii for the 58th Congress, beginning in March, 1903, at the coming general election in November (1902) next.

We thank the Congress of the United States for enacting a law for the just apportionment of the members of the Senate of the Territory, giving a majority to the Independent Home Rule party in that branch of the Legislature, and thereby showing its full confidence and recognition of the Independent Home Rule party.

We endorse the suggestions and recommendations relative to this Territory made by the President of the United States in his message to Congress and pledge our loyal support to the Administration at Washington, D. C.

We approve and support our Delegate's endeavors before Congress to apportion homesteads to all American citizens of the Territory of Hawaii, from all government lands taken over by the United States.

We denounce all efforts to abridge, curtail or disfranchise the Hawaiian of their right to vote based upon educational qualification.

We pledge our candidates for the Legislature bills relating to the following without delay:

1. The establishment of county government throughout the Territory within ninety days after the passage of the bill providing therefor.

2. The establishment of municipal government throughout the Territory within ninety days after the passage of the bill providing therefor.

3. The regulation of labor and the hours of labor in all branches of work.

4. The furthering of the interests of the farmers and day laborers by guaranteeing them their wages at the end of each week.

5. The establishment of an agricultural school in the Territory and the setting aside of a suitable appropriation for this work.

6. Labor on government contracts or otherwise, either direct or indirect shall be performed by citizens of the Territory of Hawaii.

7. We demand that uniform laws be passed for the regulation of the liquor traffic.

8. We pledge ourselves to a continuation of the appropriation for our beloved Queen.

9. We protest against the arbitrary actions of the Board of Health, and we pledge our candidates to a restriction of the same.

10. An appropriation for the payment of all claims adjudicated by the late Fire Commission Court should be passed by the next Legislature.

11. The Hawaiian language, as a branch, to be taught in public schools, when a majority of the parents of the children attending such schools so elect.

We hereby pledge ourselves to stand firmly for equal rights to all in order that benefits may accrue to the voters of the Territory.

Each and every Senator and Representative selected by the convention of the Independent Home Rule party to the Legislature convening on February, 1903, do pledge themselves that they most truly and faithfully pass the county and city government and all laws necessary as set forth in this platform.

McCLURE'S FOR AUGUST.

The August McClure's might almost be advertised as the book of the month. Though it is a typical anti-summer fiction number—and a tip-top one, too—it manages to find place for a number of striking articles that will perhaps be even more eagerly read than the stories. Professor Angelo Hellprin, who, it will be remembered, was the first man to get to the top of Mount Pelee after the eruption, tells the detailed story of his explorations. Prof. Hellprin is one of the foremost geologists in the country. His narrative will be of the most absorbing interest both to general readers and to scientists, and his conclusions concerning the real nature of the eruptions will probably be more fully corroborated by the detailed investigations of the French scientific commission now on the spot than those of any other early explorer.

The illustrations for the articles, drawn by George Varian, who accompanied the author on his second ascent to the crater, are by far the best yet published of Pelee in eruption. One was drawn less than four feet from the edge of the top crater, probably the first drawing ever published of the interior of an active volcano.

As illuminating as it is brief is Lincoln Steffens's sketch of John Mitchell, "A Labor Leader of Today." Not in any sense a discussion of the merits of the strike, but a true and vivid characterization of a man, it is possibly the most significant article pertaining to the labor question written since the outbreak of the strike.

Two papers of absolutely unique personal experiences are Santos-Dumont's first article on "How I Became an Aeronaut" and Mrs. Telika's story of the birth of her baby while the mother, with Miss Ellen M. Stone, was in captivity among the brigands. Mr. Santos-Dumont is the only living navigator of a dirigible balloon, and Mrs. Telika's experience the most remarkable that any woman has lived through since the siege of the legations in Peking. Both articles are exceptionally well written. Mrs. Telika's with much vivacity and humor, Mr. Santos-Dumont's with simple power and rare rhetoric.

The fiction includes "Cap'n Boh of the Screamer," by F. Hopkinson Smith, a new story of an old acquaintance; "The Life of the Whale of Heaven," an idyl of the Michigan forests, by Stewart Edward White; "Such as Walk in Darkness," by Samuel Hopkins Adams as good a dog story as you will wish to read; "How the Finches Came to Ireland," another of Miss Hermine Templeton's brightly stories, in a breeze that is the real article; and "The Finish of Elizabeth Shauklyn," a tale of a Missouri Lochinvar, by R. E. Young. The illustrations are no exception to the rule that makes a fiction number the best illustrated of the year.

REPROVES FRENCH ADMIRALS.

Paris, July 29.—Two distinguished naval officers, Vice Admiral de Beaumont, Maritime Prefect of Toulon, and Rear Admiral Severan, commanding the Atlantic division, have been summarily reprimanded by order of President Loubet. Rear Admiral Severan's downfall is attributed to sensational disclosures which led to the recent suicide of Commander Barry, who shot himself in the cabin of the cruiser Tage while off Martinique. Rear Admiral Severan was on board the Tage at the time.

De Beaumont's discipline is said to be due to a recently published but denied interview severely criticizing the Minister of Marine, M. Pelletan.

Paris, July 29.—In an interview published this morning by Le Journal, M. Pelletan, the Minister of Marine, attributes the dismissal of Vice Admiral de Beaumont to his having, upon the occasion of the national fête, July 14th, placed his mistress in the official tribune with the Prefect of War and the Mayor of Toulon and saluted her while ignoring them.

Military spectators present at the review of the Argentine army are reported to have said that the collection and appearance of the troops were worthy of the best organized armies of Europe.

HIGH ART PLUMBING

BATH'S PLUMBING ESTABLISHMENT.

Interior view. Located at 165 King Street, opposite Young Building.

This up-to-date plumbing shop is the result of a very rapidly increasing business and was made necessary on account of the cramped quarters formerly occupied on Richards street. To make a display of the large and fine stock of sanitary plumbing materials the new shop was opened.

A full line of the world-famed Douglas Closets is carried, which are provided with either high or low tanks and are as near noiseless in their operation as closets can be made. They are constructed on the syphon principle, which makes a strong suction that thoroughly washes the bowl. These closets are sold under a written guarantee, and are also guaranteed against leakage, no charge being made for repairs.

People today are paying much attention to sanitation and sanitary plumbing is one of the requisites in every modern residence. The BATH SHOP is the leader in sanitary plumbing and years of experience and a large force of capable workmen enables Mr. Bath to do work equal if not superior to any other shop in the islands.

A line of rolled-rim enameled Bath Tubs are on hand, as well as open lavatories. These are highly Sanitary Goods, and the connections are nickel, making them artistic in appearance.

One of the latest Improved Wash Trays may be seen on exhibition. These goods are all connected with the city water mains and may be seen in full operation at the store. The public are invited to call and make inspection of these goods.

Mr. Bath will call and give figures on work at any time. He also gives all work entrusted to him his personal supervision.
